

Joom!Fish 2.1.5 public release

Geschrieben von: Alex Kempkens
Mittwoch, den 24. November 2010 um 00:44 Uhr

Keine Übersetzungen vorhanden.

The Joom!Fish development team is proud to announce the public release of Joom!Fish 2.1.5. With this release the team fixed a series of bugs reported in the past via the various channels. Further more we improved the release to be completely compatible with PHP 5.3 and the current Joomla 1.5 versions.

This version was released already several month ago to all our Club members. Together with the existing add-ons the version proofed to be stable and a reliable version for managing multilingual websites within your Joomla CMS. In order to avoid confusion related the version numbers we decided to rename the currently available club release to the up-coming release 2.2. As usual all Club Members will be able to download this up-coming release within the next few days in a re-branded version.

We are looking forward to your feedback about this version and created a new dedicated public forum for this release. Further information about the club member benefits, additional JoomFish extensions and available support options can be found on our updated download page

.

The whole team likes to thank all of our users, contributors and especially the club members for the feedback and suggestion that lead to this new release.